

Bush guide to being better

BUSH HERITAGE
AUSTRALIA

Source local products
when you can

Notice the amount of packaging

Try a backyard
compost or embrace
community
composting if you can't do it at home (ShareWaste is a great resource)

Put your food scraps
in green
waste bins

Limit your use of meal delivery
services

Reuse things

Upcycle things

Recycle things

Try growing a modest amount of food at home. (Herbs are any easy win, then you don't need to buy them in a packet from the supermarket!)

Use reusable
wax wraps
instead of cling wrap

Avoid the single-use plastic bags at the market/supermarket for fruit and veg.

When avoiding soft plastics isn't possible, collect them up and take them to REDcycle drop-off points (usually the supermarket).

Hunt for second-hand bargains on eBay and Depop
or your local op shop

Follow some good eco peeps on Instagram and Facebook for good eco-life hacks

Stream the ABC's War on Waste on
iView

Libraries are still a thing!
