Think before you buy:
Do I really need this?
Is it well made and will it last?
Can it be repaired
rather than having to be replaced?
Will a second-hand
one do the job?

Can I make one myself or have a friend who can?

Support companies who demonstrate (rather than just advertise) that they operate ethically, sustainably, and disclose their supply chains.

Try collective buying between family members or neighbours. This works well with lawn mowers, trailers, tools, wheelbarrows - things that are used irregularly.
